7:30pm Friday 27th March 2015
Reid Concert Hall, Edinburgh

(B) Gwyd and the Brasslets; (S) String Ensemble; (W) Woodwind Quintet
We would like to thank our guest singers for supporting us tonight

Welcome

Good evening, and welcome to the Musical Medics Spring Concert. Thanks so much for coming along and supporting us, and our charity for this semester, the Sick Kids Friends Foundation. We are delighted to be raising money for such a worthwhile cause. There will be cakes on sale at the interval with donations going to the charity.

Our programme for you this evening is as varied as ever, from Bizet to Lord of the Rings, and Game of Thrones to Wicked. I'm sure you'll enjoy them all (especially the brass group, though I may be a little biased there).

Our choir conductor has just joined us this semester, and our orchestra conductor has only taken up conducting this year. Thanks to them both for all of their hard work, and for tactfully not pointing out when we are sounding less than our best at rehearsals.

I have had an amazing year as president of this society, and am delighted to be handing over to Stephanie, who I know will do an even better job. We have been on tour for the first time, our small groups have performed in other concerts and we have a double bass! The growth in the society is down to the enthusiasm and commitment of the committee, and I would like to say a massive thanks to them all for putting up with me. Enjoy the show!
